X15 Plane Sets New Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The X15 rocket plane traveled faster than a mile a second Friday and gave Air Force Maj. Bob White the speediest ride ever achieved in winged flight.

Instruments showed White, a veteran X15 pilot, had guided the sleek craft tot 3,690 miles an hour at approximately 100,000 feet above the California desert.

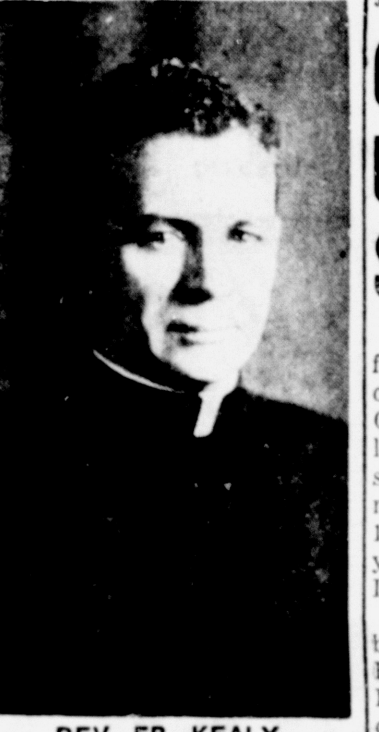

White accomplished this even though cabin pressure had failed, causing his rubber space suit to balloon out and almost immobilize him. A vapor cloud — as yet unexplained — was a further distraction.

White was five pounds lighter after the 11-minute flight. This was blamed on the pressure of his suit which caused red marks on his body and a red welt on his forehead.

BOY IS BADLY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

Terry Carpenter, 2½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carpenter, 311 Carlisle St., was in a critical condition at the Warner Hospital today after having been struck by an automobile on Carlisle St. near his home Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock.

Borough police said the child darted across the street after his mother, Mrs. Illa Carpenter, who was crossing to the opposite side.

Frank Hower, 218 N. Stratton St., driving north on Carlisle St., told police that he saw Mrs. Carpenter crossing but did not see the child until he felt the impact when his car struck "something." Halting the vehicle, Hower found the child had been struck.

Cpl. Daniel Miller said it could not immediately be ascertained whether the car struck the child, or whether the child ran into the side of the car. There were no marks on the vehicle immediately discernible which would fix the point of impact.

Hower and the mother rushed the child to the Warner Hospital in Hower's car. The ambulance was summoned but the ambulance drivers simply waved Hower on when it was found that he was already enroute.

At the Warner Hospital Dr. Gerald Doo found the child had suffered a broken left leg and sustained head and internal injuries.

Committee Blasts Castro As Tractor Deal Folds

DETROIT (AP) — The proposed swap of American tractors for Cuban invasion prisoners is dead, and the Tractors for Freedom Committee accused Cuba's Fidel Castro of killing the deal.

The committee in a bluntly worded statement Friday night said it was folding up because Castro's demand for $28 million in cash, credit or tractors could only be interpreted as a move "calculated to destroy the possibility of agreement." The committee said Castro's proposal for a delegation of prisoners to negotiate the terms was ludicrous.

The Cuban prime minister's rejection of the committee's terms to exchange 500 farm tractors worth about $3 million for 1,200 captured rebels was blamed by the committee for the collapse of the month-long negotiations. Castro had called the committee's conditions ridiculous.

RETURNING FUNDS

The private citizens' group, headed by Walter P. Reuther, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, said it is disbanding and plans to return between 60,000 and 70,000 letters it received from its appeal for funds to pay for the tractors. The letters never were opened, so there's no way of determining how much money was sent in to PO Box Freedom here.

Tractors for Freedom Inc. was organized at the suggestion of President Kennedy. But Kennedy made it clear the U.S. government would play no part in any exchange.

The committee dismissed Castro's proposal of Friday in these words:

"The latest proposal by Dr. Castro that a delegation of prisoners whom he holds captive under the threat of penalty of death or long imprisonment can negotiate the terms of their own release is ludicrous."

"It is further evidence of his brutality in cynically playing with the lives of imprisoned men and their relatives," the statement added.

The committee charged Castro reneged on his original offer to release 1,214 prisoners for 500 tractors. Castro later upped the ante, the committee said, demanding $28 million worth of heavy-duty equipment or 1,000 small tractors.

Fire Chief Francis I. Linn, general chairman for the battle observance, said the program will be held July 3 at 6:30 o'clock at the 72nd Pennsylvania Monument in the Angle near the High Water Mark.

The 72nd was comprised entirely of members of Philadelphia volunteer fire companies. It was largely responsible for the repulse of Pickett's men from the Angle where they nearly broke through the Union Center.

HONORS ALL FIREMEN

The program, honoring the 72nd on the 100th anniversary of its establishment as a Civil War unit and the 60th anniversary of the dedication of its monument, will also honor all firemen who fought with the armies in the Civil War.

To be read as part of the ceremony will be the address given by Capt. William Kerr in 1891 at the dedication of the monument. The brief address described in graphic style the appearance of the Confederates as they marched across the fields in Pickett's charge, and the actions of the 72nd in repulsing them.

Defense Boss Strikes Firm Note On New Berlin Crisis

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today struck a "firm but not belligerent" note in the growing crisis over Berlin, avoiding any show of military preparations.

In the background, U.S. British, French and West German diplomats sought agreement on how best to meet the new threat raised by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Coming away from a conference with President Kennedy and top level officials Friday, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told newsmen there are no plans at this time to strengthen the 5,000-man U.S. garrison in Berlin or to increase its firepower.

NO IMMEDIATE PLANS

McNamara also said "We have no immediate plans for increasing the forces in Europe," adding: "I don't mean we won't. I simply mean we don't have any plans at the moment for doing so in the near future."

As a general statement, McNamara declared, "We are taking a firm, but I believe not a belligerent attitude in supporting our position in Berlin and the rights and freedoms of the people living in Western Berlin."

QUALIFYING TERMS

Saying "I do not want to make inflammatory remarks," the Pentagon chief took firm issue with Russian claims that "the Soviet Union's power is in excess of ours."

Reporters saw significance in McNamara's use of qualifying terms such as "at this time" and "immediate" in saying there are no plans to bolster U.S. armed might in Europe.

Sources here and in London reported the Atlantic Alliance's conventional forces in Europe are likely to be reinforced quietly.

The main U.S. defense bulwark in Europe comprises five battle-ready Army divisions, three of them infantry and two armored. They are deployed in West Germany, close to the Iron Curtain. Air Force fighters and bombers also are arrayed within striking distance of the Berlin area.

HANOVER MAN ELECTROCUTED FRIDAY AS HE WORKS ON POLE

Earl L. Baker, 63, of 839 W. Middle St., Hanover, was fatally injured Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock 1½ miles west of New Oxford along the Lincoln Highway, near Richstine's Nursery, when he apparently came into contact with two wires while working atop a Metropolitan Edison Co. pole and 4,800 volts of electricity went through his body.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death was caused by electrocution. A former employee of Metropolitan Edison and since 1944 an employee of Sordoni Construction Co., Hanover, Baker was working for the Sordoni company on an electrical contract when accident occurred.

When fellow workmen on the ground saw the incident occur and noticed Baker's body slump in the safety belt holding him at the top of the pole, they climbed swiftly to his side and attempted resuscitation efforts while summoning aid. Dr. Crist said he died instantly when the electricity coursed through his body.

Ravi Shankar, India's great sitarist and composer, will appear at Gettysburg College on October 20, Dr. Norman Richardson, chairman of the college convocation committee, announced today.

Shankar, winner of most of the international prizes for his film scores, was chosen for the international broadcast celebrating the 10th anniversary of the United Nations.

In his appearances this fall, Shankar comes assisted by a tabla-player and a tamboura-player—in western terms, a chamber ensemble—bringing the subtle and compelling music of India with its complex scales, elaborate rhythms and the improvisational excitement that has won even "the jazz buffs" of the west.

ASIA SOCIETY PROJECT

Shankar's appearance in this country is under the auspices of the Asia Society, New York City. According to the society's director, Paul Sherbert, the launching of this experiment in international exchange, will bring leading Asian artists and companies, representatives of centuries-old cultures of the East, to audiences of the United States during the 1961-62 season.

The project which has been under consideration for more than two years, and in the organizing and working stages since the first of this year, is called "The Asia Society Performing Arts Program." It will begin in September of this year.

The performing arts program comes in response to repeated requests from colleges and universities, from centers for Asian study, and from art museums for the best of authentic attractions from Asia. It has been developed, because of the increasing awareness of the importance in the modern world of "two-way" cultural exchange.

CHARGE PARTY
HINDER PROBE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The city's Democratic administration has been accused by the Republicans of "badgering, intimidating and maligning" witnesses who want to testify about the city hall corruption.

NEW PROPOSAL MADE IN STATE SEATING PLAN

HARRISBURG (AP) — Four House Republicans have offered a new plan of congressional reapportionment for the Democratic majority to consider.

It would cut the state's congressional districts down to 27 (from 30) by eliminating three Democratic-held seats.

Republicans have been claiming that U.S. Rep. William J. Green Jr., Philadelphia Democratic chairman, is trying to save the city's present six seats although they say the 1960 census clearly indicates the city should lose one.

CUT TO FIVE

The new GOP plan offered Thursday would cut the city down to five by lumping together the fifth and sixth districts. The latter is Green's own district.

They also would combine the two southwestern districts now represented by Democrats John H. Dent of Jeannette and Thomas E. Morgan of Fredericktown, Washington County.

To eliminate a third seat they would combine the districts in northeastern Pennsylvania now held by Democrats Francis E. Walter of Easton and Daniel J. Flood of Wilkes-Barre. Walter is the dean of the Democratic delegation.

One county in Walter's present district—Monroe—would be added to the present 10th District of Republican William W. Scranton of Dalton, Lackawanna County.

ALL HAD MAJORITIES

The GOP group proposed one other change in the present district alignment: They would take the three Pittsburgh wards out of U.S. Rep. Robert J. Corbett's district—he's a Republican—and add them to the all-city district of Democrat William S. Moorhead.

All three turned in majorities for the Democrats in the 1960 gubernatorial election.

In combining the two Philadelphia districts and the Dent-Morgan district, the plan would create new districts of about 800,000 in population, roughly double the size of most other districts.

Reps. Joseph R. Holliday, Blair, Paige Varner, Clario; George C. Magee Jr., Crawford, and James E. Willard, Mercer, sponsored the plan.

In toto, it looked like a tongue-in-cheek jibe at the Democrats.

HOOVER MARKS JULY 4TH FETE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — This city, where American independence was born, celebrates Freedom Week starting next Tuesday. The observance, during which Americans everywhere are asked to dedicate themselves to the ideals upon which the nation was founded, will be climaxed July 4 at Independence Hall. That's when the United States celebrates its 185th birthday.

Herbert Hoover, the 31st president, launches Freedom Week at the historic hall on Tuesday. He will receive from Mayor Richardson Dilworth the first Philadelphia Presidents' Freedom Award. It is a two-inch solid gold medal bearing the city's seal.

Hoover, standing in Independence Square not far from the famous Liberty Bell, will respond with an address paying tribute to the American concept of freedom.

As part of the opening ceremonies, too, nine Philadelphia institutions will be cited. Still in operation, they are the first of their kind to spring up in America's early days.

See Bitter Battle For Security Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A bitter floor battle between the Communists and the West loomed anew today over a disputed Security Council seat claimed by the east Europeans.

Communist Romania and the pro-Western Philippines have both announced their candidacy for the two-year seat now held by Turkey.

Diplomats predicted the contest may wind up in a deadlock when the new 99-nation General Assembly ballots this fall to fill the vacancy.

With a two-thirds majority of those voting needed to elect a nonpermanent member to the 11-nation council it could end in a standoff—as has happened in two previous elections—with the two candidates splitting the term between them.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Resort to a court injunction appeared today the government's only recourse to end the nine-day maritime strike. President Kennedy was due to confer today with Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg on the increasingly grave shipping tie-ups.

Cold soups and hot sandwiches make interesting combinations for summertime lunches or suppers. Precede a grilled cheese and tomato sandwich with chilled cucumber soup; or a hot ham-and-egg sandwich with jellied marmalade.

Mount Elects New Alumni President

He continued law studies at the University of Miami while in the Navy and received his LL.B. in 1946.

Following the war he returned to the University of Miami as a member of the faculty, teaching for two years in the evening school of the university.

He is a member of the American Bar Association, the Florida Bar Association, the Dade County Bar Association and the Judiciary. He is one of the founders of the Florida Catholic Lawyers' Guild and a founding member of Pi Alpha Delta legal fraternity. He is district governor of Serra International.

Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, said there would be no inquest into the fatal fire. He said that Mr. Kimple, a contractor, himself for the fire that caused his death later.

Talking to Dr. Bruce N. Wolf

after he was brought to the

Warner hospital, here, the coroner reported Mr. Kimple said that he had been pouring kerosene into a stove in an attempt to start a fire for his noon meal.

When the kerosene exploded,

Mr. Kimple told the local surgeon he attempted to beat out the flames but was trapped and unable to leave the house as the flames leaped from the stove to other sections of the frame dwelling.

The total was estimated at 7,230 persons. There were 93 guided trips on Saturday and buses brought 119 more persons

Saturday and four buses accounted for 220 persons Sunday. Tourists have been quick to take advantage of the new public information booth in Lincoln

Square, erected through contributions made to the Retail Merchants association, manned by volunteers, most of them club women, the latter reported.

Wounded Again In Korean

War: First Lieutenant James F.

Eismann, husband of Mrs. F.

James F. Eismann, Carlisle

ceived by Mrs. Eismann from others in Lieutenant Eismann's

Today's Talk

ARE YOU GOOD FOR ANYBODY?

Sometimes I think life narrows down to some simple little question like this: "Are you really good for anybody?" Are you better than medicine, better than money, finer than a vacation — for somebody?

I believe that if more people married because they felt they were going to be of great good to their choices rather than for love, even, there would be more marriages that would be peaceful and enduring.

You see, love is made of such a vast number of hues and is so rarely understood that it is a very wise and paying proposition to ask yourself in advance of any occasion: "Will I be good for him — or her?"

And if you are good for him — or her — love will take care of itself!

Many of our fondest imagined possessions fade away as we get close to them and find that they are like the mirage. Which teaches us that the greatest comforts of life are those which come to us in simple garb — sincere and heartwhole, free of all hysteria and glamour.

An illusion is something you see before you, something that you build upon but which is unreal all the time — though you don't appreciate the fact until you have passed beyond it. And that is the revelation — that is the thing that makes you big, or small and contracted.

If you are good for him — or her — love will take care of itself!

Good Dairyman Must Keep Accurate Herd Records

By FRANK S. ZETTLER
Adams County Farm Agent

"A pencil can often make the difference between a good and mediocre dairyman." Recording basic information about each cow is necessary for future reference, and recording birth dates of calves is necessary to insure vaccination at the proper age.

FRANK S. ZETTLER

Failure to record breeding dates can result in cows being turned dry at the wrong time. Not many dairymen can remember the dates and information necessary for a successful dairy operation.

It takes only a minute or less each day to record this vital information if the proper equipment is available. Record this information on a stable breeding sheet available from DHIA supervisors, artificial insemination technicians, or the county agent's office. The information will not be recorded unless a pencil is handy, so tie a pencil to a string so it's always available for use where it's needed.

Weeds and corn can be seen growing together in many fields because little of the corn acreage has been treated with a pre-emergence spray.

POST EMERGENCE SPRAY

A post emergence spray with 2, 4-D would now be effective on annual and perennial broadleaved weeds. But, there is some risk if the job isn't done right.

Spray with 2, 4-D when the corn is four to eight inches high and be sure to use the amine form at one-half pound per acre. If smart weeds are present use the low volatile ester form at one-quarter or one-third pound per acre. Avoid applying during hot humid weather when the corn is growing, as there will be more injury to corn at that time.

A combination of cultivation and 2, 4-D is recommended. First, cultivate when the weeds are small. Next, spray with 2, 4-D when corn is four to eight inches high, and cultivate a week later to cover the weeds that are bent over. This is an effective method of control. If Canada thistle is in the field don't cultivate early but delay cultivation until after treatment. Atrazine can also be applied as a post emergence treatment at two pounds per acre when the weeds and grass are one to two inches high.

PROTECT CATTLE

Several kinds of flies and mosquitoes are bothering cattle. These pesky insects often reduce milk production of dairy cows and are partially responsible for poor weight gains in beef cattle.

An application should be applied to all cattle using either 50 per cent methoxychlor wettable powder or four per cent malathion dust. Sprinkle a heaping tablespoon of powder around the base of the horns, on the neck and over the back. Rub the powder lightly into the hair. Do not apply malathion within five hours of milking on dairy cows. Both insecticides give effective control of horn flies and mosquitoes but are not satisfactory against other flies that pester the cattle.

Emulsifiable concentrates, containing one per cent pyrethrins and 10 per cent synergist, and preferably with a repellent, can be used as a spray for cattle and as a space spray. This material is usually diluted one part to 19 parts of water when used as a spray. The dilution is usually one to nine for use in small electric fogging machines.

Many brands of common oil base fly sprays and aerosols are on the market. Follow the directions on labels when using these materials.

RECORD MILK YIELD IN MAY

Pennsylvania's milk cows during May produced the greatest volume of milk ever recorded in the Keystone state in a single month.

May milk production totaled 694 million pounds, the highest total milk production on record for the month. Seasonally, the output per cow reaches a peak during May and then gradually tapers off until about December when it again starts on the upward trend.

There were more cows on Pennsylvania farms this May than a year ago—about 6,000 more—totaling 890 thousand head. About the same number of cows were in production during April when total milk production came to only 610 million pounds.

Based on the latest Pennsylvania population estimate, May milk production was at a level that provided .91 quarts of milk daily per person.

The average blend price for milk received by all farmers in Pennsylvania for milk eligible for fluid sales after pool utilization and individual butterfat adjustments was $4.25 per hundred weight or 10 cents per cwt. less than in April.

FUND RAISING BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—A plan backed by Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern to regulate fund raising groups was submitted Thursday to the House.

With the legislature striving for adjournment in the next two or three weeks, however, there appeared little chance of action on miss Alpern's legislation this session.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Regular season tie games in the American Football League will remain just that.

The league's executive committee rejected Thursday a proposal that would have extended the championship sudden-death playoff to all league games.

Tally-Ho Stable's My Old Flame is a half sister to Ny Dear Girl, 2-year-old filly champion of 1959.

EGG VOLUME OFF IN MAY

Egg prices in mid-May were 35 cents a dozen at the farm, the lowest for the month since 1959 when the price plummeted to 28 cents. The low prior to that time was in 1950, according to the Pennsylvania crop reporting service.

Total production in the Keystone state in May was 294 million eggs, the lowest production for the month since 1951.

The size of the total laying flock in Pennsylvania in May (15.2 million birds) was at the lowest May level since 1945. The number of pullets on farms which are over three months of age, but not yet of laying age, is about 20 per cent of the total laying flock. This is about the same as last year, but is much below other years.

PRICES LOWER

Prices on the nation's egg markets were irregularly lower during the first three weeks of May.

During the last week of the month, prices strengthened and were sharply higher when compared with the previous week. Buying for the Memorial Day holiday was active, especially in areas where summer resorts were opening for the season.

An expected over-supply of eggs this fall had generally depressed the egg market throughout this spring. Usually the spring market is bolstered by demand for storage eggs to be held for fall sales. This demand has not developed this spring with the usual intensity.

COMEDY TEAM WILL REPLACE BENNY ANTICS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Wayne and Shuster, the team of Canadian comedians who made their American debut as proteges of Ed Sullivan, will bow in Sunday night as stars of a situation comedy under the wing of Jack Benny.

In terms of prestige, this is very nice sponsorship.

The two comedians play social directors of a resort in the series one of those setups dear to Hollywood comedy writers because it opens the door on a wide variety of — hopefully — amusing situations. "Holiday Lodge" is made by Benny's production company and will be the summer replacement for his program.

DUBIOUS OF FORMAT

"We aren't completely sold on the 'Holiday Lodge' title," confessed Johnny Wayne. "We thought it would be helpful if we could call it 'The Jack Benny Show.'"

The team is also a little dubious about the format.

"What we really wanted to make," explained Frank Shuster, "was an underwater Western set in the 1920s. That would have really caught on."

The team has specialized during their long career in Canada, where they are important TV stars, in satiric sketches.

World Briefs

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet news agency Tass reported Friday that a gold nugget weighing 14,150 grams—more than 31 pounds—has been found in a gold field in northwest Siberia.

At the official U. S. price of $35 a troy ounce, the nugget is worth approximately $16,000.

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has a cold and sore throat and has cancelled all weekend engagements on his doctor's orders, his office said Friday.

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Rafael Trujillo's sons and his widow have asked President Joaquin Balaguer to take their names off public works monuments throughout the country.

Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., his brother Rhamadas, and their mother asked that their names be replaced by those of "important people or important events in the national history." Under the dictator, who was assassinated last month, virtually every piece of public construction in the country was named for some member of the Trujillo family.

LONDON (AP)—A conservative legislator urged the British government today to seek training for West German and other NATO navy crews aboard American nuclear submarines.

ISTANBUL (AP)—Floods and lightning killed seven more Turks in the last 24 hours, bringing the week's weather toll to 37 dead.

LA PAZ (AP)—Bolivia has asked Cuba to recall Charge D'Affaires Mauro Garcia Triana, charging he has been in contact with Communist leaders and permitted them to meet in the Cuban embassy.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee today hitched a $2 billion GI college program to the defense education bill—thus adding another knot to the tangled federal aid to education situation. In a surprise, last-minute action Friday, the Senate Education subcommittee approved a plan to provide college education for servicemen discharged since Jan. 31, 1955—now numbering about 4.25 million.

TO STOP TRADE OF MOLASSES

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government has made a deal to keep millions of dollars from flowing into Fidel Castro's Cuba for molasses.

The Agriculture Department announced Friday it had signed a one-year contract with Publiker Chemical Corp. The terms: Publiker will stop importing Cuban molasses; in turn the Agriculture Department will sell to Publiker at a loss 14 million bushels of corn.

The corn—from low grade surplus stocks—will be used by Publiker as a substitute for the molasses in the production of industrial alcohol and liquor.

The company said it had depended on the molasses to keep some of its operations in production.

"For the period of the contract Publiker is required to suspend all imports of molasses from Cuba," the Agriculture Department said in a statement.

HOUSE PASSES LOBBY BILL AFTER HASSLE

HARRISBURG (AP)—A proposed lobbyist control act has been approved by the House.

In a session stretching over a six-hour period Thursday the House also approved important bills dealing with sales tax collection, taxes on processing industries, an interstate compact on the Delaware River.

But a dress rehearsal of House sentiment on abolishing the death penalty was postponed indefinitely in a last-minute change of strategy by its supporters.

LOBBYIST BILL

Most of the 3½ hours the House was actually in session, however, was taken up with the lobbyists bill. This is a perennial offering to the legislature.

Lobbyists—sometimes known as "legislative engineers"—are persons hired by special interests to influence the fate of legislation before the General Assembly.

The lobbyist is a highly specialized type of salesman; his merchandise is a point of view.

PROPOSED LAW

The proposed law would require them to register with the legislature—the most influential of them already are well known but there are dozens, maybe hundreds, of others who come and go—and to report their expenditures.

Republicans led the opposition to the measure, centering their criticism on a phrase that would exempt political action committees of which the best known are associated with unions.

They also claimed the proposal would require school superintendents and hospital officials coming here to plead a special cause to register as lobbyists.

DEMOCRAT STAND

Democratic adherents argued, however, that labor unions would be covered by the bill because their lobbying activities are distinct from their political action groups.

They also gave as their interpretation of the bill that casual lobbyists such as a school superintendent seeking help from the legislature would not have to register.

After nearly two hours of debate, the bill was approved 124-73.

FINAL COUNT

The final count showed 103 Democrats and 21 Republicans in favor and 72 Republicans and one Democrat—John F. Stank of Northumberland County—opposed. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The House met alone Thursday, then went home for the weekend. The Senate left after Wednesday's session.

Groups supporting abolition of the death penalty asked their legislative supporters to hold off action while they try to get a similar bill out of Senate committee and before the full Senate. They felt that would strengthen their strategic position.

HOUSE DISCUSSION

The House had planned to dis-

CZECH LEAVES BUT MELODY WILL LINGER

By MILTON BESSER

and there was to be a move to send the measure back to committee. The bill was not, however, in position for a final vote.

Without a dissenting vote, the House passed and sent on to the Senate a pair of bills extending the manufacturing exemption in the sales and capital stock taxes to the processing of food, metals, textiles, soft drinks and animal and poultry feed.

The bill accelerating return of sales tax collections by merchants at the end of the 1961-62 fiscal period was passed, 180-17, and sent to the Senate.

It would produce an estimated $10 million extra to help offset a $34 million deficit left from the recent fiscal period.

The Delaware River compact measure now goes to Gov. Lawrence. The Senate already had ratified Pennsylvania's participation in a four-state compact for long-range development of the Delaware River Watershed. Delaware, New Jersey and New York already have approved the compact, but Congress has yet to act.

the fall. Miroslav Nacvalac, the handsome 39-year-old Czechoslovak diplomat accused by the United States of being the country's top spy in America, left by plane Thursday night for Paris and Prague.

"The United States stripped him of diplomatic immunity and threatened to deport him as illegal alien if he did not leave. It acted a lot tougher at the finish than it did at the start."

CZECHS BREAK STORY

The Czechs broke the story a week ago when their U.N. mission charged two U.S. intelligence agents, in the company of a known Czech defector, tried to hire Nacvalac as a spy on the previous Tuesday—June 13.

It took the U.S. State Department six hours to come up with charges that Nacvalac was a spy who gave U.S. agents the false impression he wanted to defect. The United States sent a note to the Czech mission demanding that Nacvalac get out of the country because of "improper activities."

Nacvalac meanwhile made himself available to reporters with an account of two U.S. agents named "Mr. Mack and Mr. Jack" interrupting his smorgasbord luncheon at a New York restaurant to enlist him for espionage.

FISH AND MUSHROOMS

He said he was with an American friend talking about favorite spots for bass fishing—a friend for whom he said he had obtained Czech mushrooms and sheet music from home.

On Monday Czechoslovakia rejected the U.S. demand that Nacvalac be recalled, saying it violated the U.S.-U.N. agreement giving special status to the U.N.

On Tuesday the United States fired off a memorandum to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold charging that Nacvalac, in a series of meetings in California paid $1,700 to a naturalized American of Czech descent for information Nacvalac thought was highly secret. Actually, the United States said, the American was working with the FBI and the information he passed was worthless.

Nacvalac, again meeting with reporters, denied the detailed U.S. story as a fabrication and said he had never been in California. The State Department produced pictures it said showed he was there.

1. Choose your dealer carefully.
2. Buy only from a well established reputable dealer.
3. Buy only from a dealer who maintains his own adequate facilities to service the car you buy.
4. Insist on a WARRANTY in writing that can be "backed-up."
5. BUYING from a NEW CAR DEALER IS YOUR BEST BET... Most new car dealers sell locally owned trade-ins, not Used Cars obtained from Auto Auctions or distress merchandise from large cities.
6. Insist on knowing where the Used Car came from. "Ask who was the previous owner." Most new car dealers will be happy to tell you and invite you to contact the previous owner.
7. New Cars bought from Used Car Dealers... REMEMBER, only the New Car Dealer is authorized to extend a FACTORY WARRANTY to a buyer, NO ONE ELSE.

West Plans To Stepup Its Defenses In West Berlin

Editor's Note—How is the West reacting to Khrushchev's latest threats on Berlin? Endre Marton, veteran AP State Department reporter, discusses the situation in the following article which contains background and interpretive material.

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The West is planning to step up its defenses in Europe as evidence of its determination to stand firm on Berlin.

High-ranking officials, in reporting this today, referred to the seriously worded statement Secretary of State Dean Rusk made at his news conference Thursday. He blamed the Soviets for the tension in the world and restated the Western position on Berlin.

No Soviet action, Rusk said, can extinguish the right of the Western powers in Berlin. Western forces are to remain in the divided German city, he added, and no peaceful solution can be reached at the expense of Western obligations in Berlin.

CLEAR ABOUT OBLIGATION

"The United States and those associated with us are clear and firm about our obligations to ourselves and to the people of West Berlin," Rusk said.

The Western powers, informants said, are planning to quicken the beefing up of Atlantic alliance forces in Europe and to increase their state of readiness. This will be done quietly and without fanfare but in a way that should serve as notice to the Soviets.

The thinking behind this strategy, officials explained, that Soviet Premier Khrushchev does not seem to have been sufficiently impressed by the warnings President Kennedy repeatedly has made. In the past, it is recalled, the Soviet Union often paid attention to a show of force where words were of no avail.

REPLY TO NOTE

Meanwhile, the United States continues consultations with its allies on the U.S. reply to Khrushchev's June 4 aide memoire on Berlin. The consultations started in Washington last week when Foy D. Kohler, assistant secretary of state for Europe, conferred with Sir Evelyn Shuckberg of the British Foreign Office and with Jean Lalois, French specialist on German affairs.

The State Department now is waiting for advice from Paris and London through normal diplomatic channels and the U.S. reply to the Soviet note is expected to be ready in about a week or 10 days.

Before that, however, Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, will have returned to his post. He is due back on the job next Monday after Washington consultations.

The Nursery class teacher is Mrs. Louise McDannell with Mrs. Miriam Sites as her helper and with seven children enrolled. In the Beginners' class, Mrs. Mildred Shindler is the teacher and Mrs. Haines the helper with eight enrolled. Mrs. Ruby Wetzel is the teacher of the Primary class with Mrs. Beatrice Gotwalt as the helper and with nine pupils. There are 13 Juniors with Mrs. Mazie McGlaughlin as the teacher. Mrs. Alice Wetzel is the teacher for 12 teen-agers and Mrs. Lelia Sites is in charge of the kitchen.

The school will continue through June 30 and the closing program will be held on the evening of the final day's session. Each class will participate under the direction of its teachers.

Holy Communion service will be held Sunday at 9 a.m. at the Mt. Carmel EUB Church preceding the Sunday School session. Recent visitors at the parson-

PHOUMA SEEMS BEST BET AS LAOS' PREMIER

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The East-West conference on Laos appeared destined today to dawdle along doing little until King Savang Vathana picks a new government for the strife-torn nation.

The prevailing view is that Prince Souvann Phouma, self-styled neutralist backed by the Communists, is sure to be named premier. But unless the normal pace of developments in Laos is accelerated, that won't happen for weeks.

The job of forming a new cabinet was thrown to the Laotian king Thursday by the three princes who head the warring factions in the little Southeast Asian country.

END CONFERENCE

They ended a four-day conference at Zurich with a vague statement calling for national unity and a decision to let the king name a coalition government. They stipulated only that all three factions—pro-Western conservatives, pro-Communist Pathet Lao and neutralists—must be represented but did not specify how the power should be divided. Delegates from 13 other nations marked time here all week long, the princes would produce a coalition government to represent Laos at the conference and tell it what the Laotians themselves will agree to.

The main points of the agreement signed by the princes represented important concessions by Western-backed Premier Prince Boun Oum.

Stevenson Gives Report To JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson reported to President Kennedy Friday that economic want and social unrest are on the march in South America.

Stevenson tempered this sober note with the observation, however, that increasing too is "official awareness of the needs for economic and social reform and progress and the growing menace of communism."

Kennedy sent the U.N. ambassador on a whirlwind tour of all 10 South American countries to get a sounding on the administration's alliance for progress program. Stevenson's mission also was to find out what kind of re-age were Mrs. Gotwalt's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lick, and children, Katrina and Timothy, Manchester, Pa.

A food sale sponsored by the Margaret Donaldson Bible Class of the Methodist Church will be held June 30 at 4 p.m. in the church hall.

TWO BERLINS PLAGUE BOTH GREAT POWERS

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The simple meat and potato question—WHY?—gets lost in the noisy East-West wrangle over Berlin. Here are some of the answers.

Since the war the West and the Soviet Union have discussed unifying Germany. They've never agreed on how. The West insists on free elections to set up a single German government. The Russians have never bought that. The result: two Germanys.

The Western powers are allied with West Germany. Russia is allied with Communist East Germany, which the West refuses to recognize as a legitimate government. The reason: It was not created through free elections.

TWO BERLINS

But there are also really two Berlins. West Berlin, with its 2.5 million people, is linked to West Germany. The Communists hold East Berlin as the capital of East Germany.

But the city happens to lie 110 miles inside East Germany. Therefore, all people and supplies, bound for Berlin from the West, must pass through or over Communist territory.

The West insists these supply routes must not be interfered with. And, except for former Soviet Premier Stalin's unsuccessful effort to blockade in 1948-49, the Russians have kept the routes open.

RUSSIAN CONTROL

Russia has kept control of those routes out of the hands of the East Germans even though it recognizes the Communist regime in East Germany as a sovereign government. To have done otherwise would have created an awkward situation.

What would the allies do if the East Germans, whom they don't recognize, attempted to tell them what they could or couldn't send over those supply routes? It could have produced a mess.

But the United States, Britain and France keep troops in West Berlin. They're too few to mean anything militarily. Any all-out Communist attack would roll over them. They're not so much a force as a symbol.

WESTERN ACCESS

But there's a main point involved here: the West insists it has a right of free access to Berlin for people and supplies and the right to keep troops in the city. It says those rights were agreed to by the Russians after the war.

But West Berlin has become a pain to the Communists, for various reasons.

This highly prosperous part of the city is a Western outpost and showcase in the middle of the Communist world. It is a refuge for East Germans fleeing Communism.

FREEDOM SYMBOL

And the allies' troops there are a symbol of freedom—so long as West Berlin remains free it holds out hope to anti-Communists behind the Iron Curtain that they may in time become free too. The reverse of that would stifle hope.

And the Western troops there are a symbol of Western support to the West Berliners. And as long as the present situation endures, the attempt by Russia to make the East German government look like a power in its own right becomes ludicrous.

These are all reasons for Premier Khrushchev to force a change. But there's another good one: if he can force the West to make concessions on Berlin, it will weaken the confidence of the Western allies in themselves.

WESTERN KEY

This is particularly true because West Berlin is a key example of Western determination and good faith in upholding the rights of the West against Communist encroachment.

So Khrushchev says those post-war agreements on Berlin are outdated by events. He wants the West to pull its troops out of West Berlin. He wants it, he says, to be a demilitarized "free city." But he won't permit any change in the status of East Berlin, where the Communists are boss.

He wants the West to recognize Communist East Germany as a legitimate government. Whether it does or not, he says, he will turn control of those access routes to Berlin over to the East Germans.

RED VIEWS

Khrushchev has made it plain the question of continuing to use those routes to Berlin would have to be settled between the West and the East Germans, whom the West insists are not a real government. This would put the West on the spot.

So long as it insists on the present arrangement, the West can insist it has the right, based on postwar agreements, to use the routes to Berlin and keep troops there.

Once it agreed to Khrushchev's demands, it would yield its rights, could no longer claim them, and have toicker as best it could with the East Germans who might let supplies through as a concession but not as a right.

In the end such a Western retreat—together with all the hanky-panky the Communists could cook up in the years ahead to make Western contact with Berlin difficult—would almost certainly mean the loss of West Berlin to communism.

Singer Johnny Mathis sums up the problems of people in show business with these words: "Like every other performer, there are many times when I'd like to give a swift kick to the person who's responsible for many of my problems. But if I did, I wouldn't be able to sit down for a month."

As a result, Lopez has ordered an Electrachord equipped piano for his bandstand at the Taft Hotel in New York

City, and will shortly begin featuring the device during the dance sessions of his and the network radio broadcasts from the room. The Electrachord is the recent invention of a 32-year-old Lee Von Gunten.

MEL ALLEN COULD HAVE ## BEEN VOICE OF THE GIANTS:

Back in the early 1940's sportscaster Mel Allen was broadcasting both New York Giants and New York Yankees home baseball games. In 1943 he had received an offer to broadcast Giant games exclusively, but before the season started the Yankees approached him, and he decided to go with them. If he had not made that last minute change, Mel would probably have become known as the "Voice of the Giants."

Wayne and Shuster:

By RITA KATLEMAN

ON Sunday night, June 25, in the time spot generally occupied by Jack Benny on CBS-TV, a summer show will take over for 13 weeks. The faces and names will be familiar to regular viewers of the Ed Sullivan program. Stars of the show are Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster. Title of the half hour program is "Holiday Lodge."

Wayne, who speaks more for the team ("Because I talk faster," he explains), says:

"We're doing a situation comedy for the first time in our careers. Whether or not it will work out, we're not sure. We hope it will, because we like doing different things, and we regard 'Holiday Lodge' as another manifestation of the ability of Wayne and Shuster to take on certain roles and play them. We are playing roles—our names on the show are John Miller and Frank Boone who are working in this summer resort. We're creating these roles, and we'll play them."

"COMPLEX CHARACTERS"

In reply to whether or not this will confuse the public about who Wayne and Shuster really are, Frank interposes:

"The real Wayne and Shuster aren't known to anybody but our wives, and they're not sure. They're pretty complex characters, but we're not trying to project them on 'Holiday Lodge.' We're just trying to present happy-go-lucky characters, or fun-loving idiots. Which we are, when we're on-camera."

Off-camera, the two aren't exactly sobersides, but they're not clowns of the Jerry Lewis school either. Well-educated, they are both now in the School of Graduate Studies at the University of Toronto and have Bachelor of Arts degrees with the School of Graduate Studies. They are probably the only two comics with so imposing an educational background, and consider it a tremendous asset.

"SCOPE OF FUN"

Wayne says: "I believe our educations give us a wider understanding and scope of fun that there is to be had. And I think some of it rubs off on our sketches. How much it will rub off on our situation comedy depends on the educational backgrounds of our writers. It also gives us a greater respect for people. There is a tendency among people nowadays to downgrade the intellectual. We personally feel the real hip people in this world are those with education. I think the real squares are illiterates. Take Allen Shepard, the astronaut, for instance. He's a graduate engineer, I believe, a man of background, intelligence and humor. I think he must be most hip and

In Holiday Lodge

FISHING ANYONE? . . . I-r Maureen Arthur joins zany and wild Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster in "Holiday Lodge."

unsquare. This is a wonderful example of a man when you compare him to some people who snort at education. I don't know that if the public learns that I collect old books this will make me any funnier in their eyes. But I'm collecting old books to be funny. I have them because I enjoy them."

"ROOTS IN TORONTO"

Temporarily living in Hollywood while filming "Holiday Lodge," Wayne and Shuster have no plans to transplant their families—three sons of Wayne and a son and daughter of Shuster, to Hollywood.

"At least right now we don't intend to. Our homes, our roots are in Toronto. We feel we can continue to live there and commute to Hollywood or New York, wherever we wish," says Shuster. "It may prove that we'll live here and commute elsewhere. But we don't think that far ahead."

Long-established stars in Canada before Ed Sullivan heard of them neither Wayne or Shuster figures "Holiday Lodge" as going-for-broke in their careers. Wayne says logically:

"We have no illusions about ourselves. We've been stars for 21 years in Canada. We had the highest ranking radio show for many years, and now we have the highest ranking TV show in Canada. We consider ourselves good writers, and so do most of the other writers we meet in America."

Shuster picked up the trend of thought by adding, "There's no rule that says we have to be an automatic successful big smash. We're trying the show to see what we can learn from it, but we don't have any crazy illusions about becoming the kings of situation comedy of all time."

The format of the show has Wayne and Shuster as recreational directors at "Holiday Lodge," situated at a scenic lake in Any Place, Calif. To add romantic interest, Maureen Arthur, a Marilyn Monroe-type blonde beauty, has been cast as the receptionist at the lodge and she is also Wayne's girl friend. Other beauties will parade in and out of the various shows, the men mentioned, appreciatively.

The two, friends literally since their Cub Scout days in boyhood, work as a team but only from 9 to 5. Promptly at 5 they separate, and don't see one another again until the following morning. The two feel it better to lead separate social lives. They explain it: "We have different friends because we're different people and different personalities."

How to describe Wayne and Shuster? They don't know how to describe themselves, either as humorists or comedians.

"We regard ourselves as men who try to make people laugh. If a humorist does this, we're humorists. If it's a comedian who makes people laugh, we're comedians. We have no illusions about our high status," Wayne maintains.

Shuster says, "Humorists are just fancy comedians."

Wayne continues: "It's like in college. When we first left, we were grads. We are now distinguished alumni. I think it's a title that comes with age."

So Shuster completes: "And when we get older, maybe we'll be humorists. Or perhaps a humorist is a fat comedian."

Neither is fat. Both are funny. You can judge for yourself.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By MARSHALL TUCKEY

The Low Countries of Europe, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg, all are in the North Sea area. Apparently, the lower the land, the higher the cuisine. Belgium and The Netherlands use shellfish more than any other food and have more ways of preparing oysters than any American oyster house could ever imagine. In Belgium one of the best known meat dishes is "Les Choelsels" made of beef and veal sweetbreads. This is served on Thursdays, since that is "slaughter-day" and this dish has become known as a "Thursday Specialty."

Plan to have your Sunday dinner with us. Reservations taken for luncheons and banquets.
